

2022 Tisch Community Research Forum

Friday, April 1st, 2022 (online)

The first annual Tisch Community Research Forum, hosted by the Tisch College Community Research Center, highlights a selection from the diverse range of student-community collaborative research across the university. With a keynote on community-engaged research with local partners, the forum will host concurrent sessions for students and community partners to discuss their collaborative work and highlight research experiences across academic fields at Tufts.
